Founding Editors of WOTH Magazine

Meet Art Director and Stylist Mary Hessing and Publisher and Journalist Toon Lauwen.

"The house and our work are one. This house has opened up doors for us, got us work and it has created possibilities. It is often as busy, and buzzing with people and creativity, as a central train station."

Gallery Owner and Art Collector

Peter Amby's grand apartment in central Copenhagen is packed with artworks, just like his gallery 'Last Resort' which is located not far from where he lives.

"It is a privilege to be able to live with so many artworks, so much so, that it almost seems a bit like I'm a hoarder. But the advantage with having such a large quantity is that I keep discovering and re-experiencing the works."

Interior Designer

Nadia Olive Schnack lives with her two kids and husband in a curious and colourful villa in Frederiksberg, Copenhagen.

"The process starts when I fall in love. In the case of my own home, I fell in love with a small piece of striped curtain fabric from Paris... and my design grew from there."

“Our house opened

new possibilities”

MARY HESSING & TOON LAUWEN

Founding Editors of WOTH Magazine

A showroom with a residential edge or a multifunctional home where the lines between home life and professional life blur and merge? The creative and entrepreneurial couple lives in a converted old milk factory in The Hague, The Netherlands. The floor plan is completely open and fluid, you enter from the garage into a space that serves as family kitchen, dining room, showroom and living room – all full of wonderful things, pastels and pops of colour.

“Our magazine is called

WOTH Wonderful Things

– it is about things that hold stories, that capture what people are thinking, what they represent. It can be objects that you use, that you cherish, or that celebrate daily activities.”

NADIA OLIVE SCHNACK

Interior Designer

The colourful and quirky villa, home of Interior Designer Nadia Olive Schnack and estate agent husband, is a festival of colours. Rich, deep, bold colours with clashing pairings, contradictory patterns and textures. Nadia's home does not feel 'decorated', it's truly an expression of her personal style, cocooning her family and guests in its warmth and friendly atmosphere.

COLOURFUL VILLA IN FREDERIKSBERG, COPENHAGEN

“My process is driven by intuition.

I don't work conceptually in a structured fashion.

Colours and intuition is the key to my work...

I love working with the combination of patterns,

textiles and wallpaper.”

PETER AMBY

Gallery Owner and Art Collector

Home or gallery? The lines are blurred, since art has completely inhabited every aspect, every corner of Peter’s home and life. Bold colours are key to his style – pops of bright tones contrasting the wooden floors, the grey walls of the hallway, the dirty white of the panels in the living room – an art piece by artists Mathias & Mathias. Everything brimming with life and full of stories. A talking piece – or several – in every room.

APARTMENT IN CENTRAL COPENHAGEN

“Art can be exciting for a number of reasons. It can be aesthetically pleasing, ugly or repulsive – maybe it holds some kind of narrative that is intriguing. But it is important, that it is not just a visual experience.”

The mathematics behind the Montana System

— En

When Peter J. Lassen developed the Montana System, there was a detailed mathematic and philosophical principle behind it. The mathematic calculations are complex and based on 5.7 cm, but the philosophy is quite simple: Every Montana element should be able to be infinitely combined and be practical, good-looking, durable and independent of changes in fashion. That is the way it has been since 1982, and that is the way it will stay.

— De

Als Peter J. Lassen das Montana-Regalsystem entwickelte, lag ihm ein durchdachtes mathematisches und philosophisches Prinzip zu Grunde. Die mathematischen Berechnungen sind komplex und basieren auf 5,7 cm, während die Philosophie dahinter einfach ist: Alle Elemente in Montanas Universum müssen unendlich miteinander kombiniert werden können, sie müssen praktisch, schön, haltbar und unabhängig von wechselnden Modeströmungen sein. So ist es seit 1982 und so wird es auch in Zukunft sein.

— Dk

Da Peter J. Lassen udviklede Montana Reolsystemet, lå der et gennemtænkt matematisk og filosofisk princip bag. De matematiske beregninger er komplekse og baseret på 5,7 cm, men filosofien er til gengæld enkel: Alle elementer i Montanas univers skal kunne kombineres i det uendelige og være praktiske, smukke, holdbare og uafhængige af skiftende modeluner. Sådan har det været siden 1982, og sådan bliver det ved med at være.

“Montana is always new”

“What are you creating? If your answer is ‘solutions’, then this is an ending.
But if you answer: ‘I am creating possibilities’, then it is an opening.”

Montana Free is designed to last. But also made for change. Because life changes. Your mood changes. Your needs change. So does Montana Free. Move it around, expand it, add more colours. Cover it with memories or go full-blown minimal. Share it with someone or keep it to yourself. Montana Free is not just a piece of furniture; it's a big, open canvas.

The shelving system has all the marks of Montana's unique DNA and the high quality you would expect.

Bewegen Sie es, erweitern Sie es, fügen Sie weitere Farben hinzu. Füllen Sie es mit Erinnerungen oder seien Sie minimalistisch. Teilen Sie es mit jemandem oder behalten Sie es für sich selbst. Montana Free ist nicht nur ein Möbelstück: es ist eine große, offene Möglichkeit, sich selbst auszudrücken.

Dieses Regalsystem hat alle Merkmale von Montanas einzigartiger DNA und die hohe Qualität, die Sie erwarten.

Reolsystemet Montana Free er et nyt slags møbel til en ny måde at leve på. Fritstående, nemt at samle og uimodståelig flytbart.

Montana Free er designet til at holde. Men også skabt til forandring. Fordi livet forandrer sig. Dit humør forandrer sig. Dine behov forandrer sig. Det gør Montana Free også. Flyt reolen rundt, udbyg den, giv den flere farver. Fyld den med gode minder eller skru helt op for minimalismen. Del den med nogen eller behold den for dig selv. Montana Free er ikke bare et møbel – den er et stort, åbent lærred.

Det nye reolsystem er en naturlig forlængelse af Montanas unikke DNA, og kvaliteten er tilsvarende høj.

Sustainability is products

lasting a lifetime

— En

At Montana, we take our environmental responsibilities seriously. Over 25 years ago, we introduced our own set of environmental accounts in consultation with The Danish Environmental Protection Agency and became one of the first Danish businesses to run ‘cradle-to-cradle’ analyses of the environmental consequences of a given product. Since 2007, we have exclusively used water-based lacquer colours, which neither smell nor contain solvents. Montana carries the Danish Indoor Climate Label, and Montana is certified with accordance to international environmental standards.

De

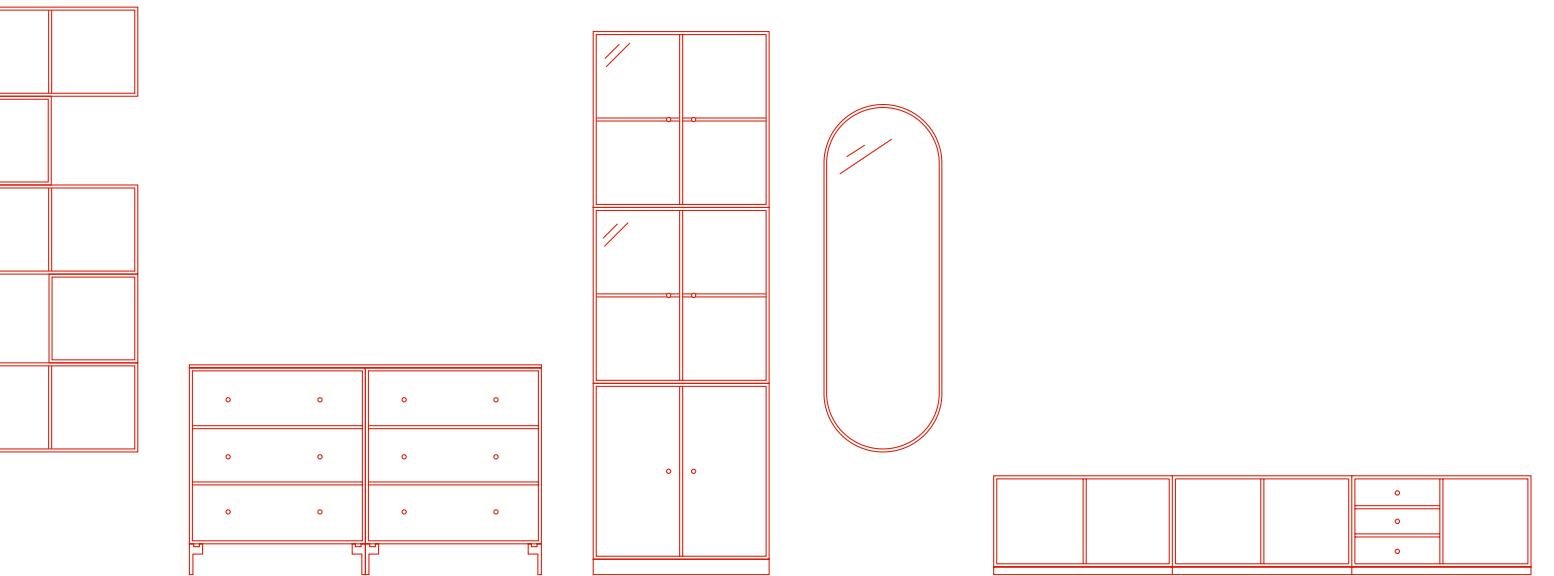

Wir von Montana nehmen unsere Verpflichtungen der Umwelt gegenüber ernst. Bereits vor 25 Jahren haben wir eine Umweltbilanz eingeführt, die aus einer Kooperation mit dem dänischen Umweltamt entstand. Wir sind auch eines der ersten dänischen Unternehmen, das sogenannte 'Wiege-bis-zur-Bahre-Analysen' verwendet. Dabei nehmen wir für das jeweilige Produkt Bezug auf alle Auswirkungen auf die Umwelt. Außerdem verwenden wir seit 2007 ausschließlich Lacke auf Wasserbasis, die keine gesundheits- und umweltgefährdenden Lösungsmittel enthalten. Montana ist zertifiziert für das Raumklima und Montana ist mit Umweltzertifikaten nach internationalem Umweltstandard versehen.

Dk

Hos Montana tager vi vores miljøforpligtelser seriøst. Allerede for 25 år siden indførte vi grønt regnskab som resultat af et samarbejde med Miljøstyrelsen. Vi var også en af de første danske virksomheder, der bruger 'vugge til vugge-analyser', hvor vi forholder os til alle miljømæssige konsekvenser ved et givent produkt. Desuden har vi siden 2007 udelukkende anvendt vandbaserede lakker, som ikke indeholder sundheds- og miljøskadelige opløsningsmidler. Montana er indeklimamærket, og Montana er miljøcertificeret efter international miljøstandard.
